President's Message

Last Monday we enjoyed seeing the results of Chairman/Reeve Nature, Wendy Hutchison Hagen, as she read many fabulous images, as congratulations to those who received awards and honours in the Nature competition.

Many thanks to Frank Edwardi and John Meadows for organizing another successful Nature competition. Thanks also to Ken Hall for his work on the website and to all panelists' insights and comments.

Chronologer Ross Vodenitcharov ended the judging with his Chronologer score tabulation. This time it was a close race between Ross and Frank Edwardi, with Ross coming out on top. Congratulations to Ross Vodenitcharov, Chronologer 2020, and Frank McClenahan, for offering your expertise and wisdom.

Next on the agenda is the Toronto International Salon and the results of the Nature competition. Sadly I will not be able to join you in person as I am still in Alaska.

I am sure though it will be an enjoyable evening and I will watch the proceedings remotely.

Cheers!

Workshop Program Update

Hi everyone, I want to take the opportunity to provide another update on our workshop program for the upcoming season.
We have two new opportunities that I want to share with you:

In-Person Workshop Weekends

Due to the success of the Fall Colours Workshop we are in Kinmount's Street Side Picnic workshops that have been years to check on its availability. Unfortunately, Kinmount is not available this weekend.

Todd has indicated that he could be available to lead a workshop/s in the Spring that if we have interested participants.

For that reason I would like to canvas you to get an estimate of the level of interest.

Please respond to workshops@TorontoCameraClub.com with your name, specify on a Saturday or Sunday (based on weather expectations). The cost will be $75 per person. Todd will lead a workshop/s on a specific topic that will be determined by the group. Todd has indicated that he is interesting views of our city's landscape. I attach a couple of my favourite shots of the city that I took from the Leslie Street Spit.

The workshops last around 4 hours or usually limited to 10 – 12 participants. Todd will provide instruction and guidance on the day and will also be available for post-workshop critiques.

If you are interested in taking part in one of these workshops please email me at workshops@TorontoCameraClub.com with your name and specify on a Saturday or Sunday. The cost will be $75 per person.

Introduction to Lightroom

A member, Gabriel Issac, has heard a significant interest from members for beginner introductions to Lightroom and Photoshop. Gabriel is willing to lead a workshop/s on a specific topic that will be determined by the group. The program for post processing of images.

The workshops will be designed in order to meet Lightroom users to members who do not feel fully comfortable using the program.

Gabriel is available, the goal of the workshop is for the first part of the 90 minutes, everyone understands one simple workflow for improving a photo. Gabriel will provide instruction and guidance on the day.

If you are interested in the workshop I would appreciate hearing from you.

The timing would likely be in the Winter months.

If you have any questions please contact me.
